Everybody seems to be getting into the act these days - the liberation act this time. Now that the monsters are once again in the limelight (or should we say the moonlight), they are banding together for the right to pursue their own life style. One of them was overheard to say, "We're sick and tired of our fly by night reputation and the fact that we're judged by face value alone. We're only inhuman." And so Cracked brings you a look at what might happen on the night they are released from their cages. We are sure that Adolph's Meat Tenderizer will outsell the popcorn during intermission. But don't be alarmed.* The only dangerous monster is man himself. (See if you can find him.)
*These beings are harmless.

LETTERS

Hey Cracked Guys,
I was wondering if you could send me an 8 X 10 picture of Sylvester P. Smythe. If yes, I will be happy to send you a money order for your price.

Your Fan,
Rick Baker
Topeka, Kansas

Dear Rick,

Sylvester told us he has no available photographs at this time. It seems he's got a contract with Cosmo. And until after his appearance in their centerfold, they've got all rights to his photographs.

Dear Cracked Magazine, (what a stupid name.)

I call and write to all major magazine publishers and editors and criticize their magazines. You may or may not have heard of me, but it doesn't matter. I think you should leave my friend, George Wallace out of your magazines! The world is full of jokes about him, without you doing worse to the poor man who may be confined to a wheel chair for the rest of his life! So cool it on Wallace (at least for awhile). Otherwise your magazine is O.K.

Benjamine X

Dear Benjamine, (what a stupid name)

We couldn't decide whether to print your letter or not, for we didn't think you wanted the fame and recognition that engulfs our readers who are chosen for this honor.

Concerning our article on George Wallace (Cracked No. 103) please note we are not picking on anyone. We've run articles on Nixon, Agnew, Lindsay, Kennedy, to name a few. (listed chronologically according to shoe size.)

By the way, the world is full of jokes about elephants and they don't seem to be complaining.

Cracked,

I've been buying your magazine for three years now and I think it's a real poor excuse for a magazine. Not one article has made me laugh, or even smile. I don't know how you guys stay in business. Why don't you give up?

Joe Krell
Harrisburg, Pa.

Joe,

It's great hearing from one of our loyal fans. We've also wondered ourselves why we don't give up. It's people like you, however, who keeps us going. Thanks for your letter and keep buying Cracked so you will always have something to complain about.

Sirs:

Somehow your farcy article on "The Day Norman Told Off His Boss" (Cracked No. 102) strikes a very familiar note! Right on! My best friend, after getting out of the service, found he had no skills. So along comes a salesman from a trade school and told him all the "fantastic" job opportunities available to these people. He spent all his money and 1/2 of his G.I. Bill taking this course.

Now he can find no available work and he's worse off than before. Publish more articles like this. Maybe some of your readers will benefit.

Thanks,
David Haas
Westminster, Ca.

Thanks for your letter, David. Looks as if your friend really got on the wrong course. (Ha! Ha!) We've benefited from your letter by starting a humor writer's course of our own. Tell your friend about us. We'll settle for the other half of his G.I. Bill.

Dear Cracked,

I have been a subscriber to a magazine (Mad) for 3 years. A month ago I went to the local store. When I saw your Special No. 8 I forgot everything and bought it. Of course I loved it, dropped my other magazine and never got it since. What took you so long.

Philip Oppenheim
Old Bethpage, New York

Dear Philip,

The reason it takes us so long is that we keep stumbling and tripping over discarded magazines. Actually, what took you so long. Cracked has been around for 15 years now.

Dear Cracked,

I've read many magazines and I think yours is the funniest. I'll be reading it all summer. I know this magazine can be bought all over the United States. Is it also published in Canada?

Marle Dinnerman
West Orange, New Jersey

Dear Marle,

It's nice to know we've got fans dedicating their whole summer to reading CRACKED. Yes, CRACKED is also on the stands in Canada as well as many other places around the world. We'd like to take this opportunity to say hello to our readers in other lands. Buenas Dias, Guten Tag, Bonjour, etc.

Dear Cracked Reader,

Your magazine is the wackiest I've ever come to lay eyes on. It's different than most I've seen. Cracked is unordinary. I really dig your magazine.

Casey Chandler
Fraser, Michigan

P.S. Where are your headquarters?

Dear Casey,

Take U.S. 19 to Jerico turnpike...No, take Route 66.1/2 mile west of Oklahoma City, until you see 2nd MacDonalds... No, take Jackson St. in...come to think of it, you can't get here from there!

Dearest Cracked,

Your magazine is by far the best I've ever come across. It's loaded with laughs, up to date and chock full of fun.

From a satisfied reader

Dear Reader,

Thank you for your sweet letter. My tooth aches just reading it. Actually we've had your letter blown up to poster size and it's hung next to the water cooler.

Dear Cracked,

We really enjoy your magazine over here. We like to read about what's going on in the big U.S. Your political satires are great. You see, American humor is very much like ours. Keep up the good work.

William Saunders
New Zealand

Thanks for writing, William. It's nice to know "funny" is international.

A DAY AT THE AIRPORT

Now airline people are a pretty cool lot, but this caused some of them to lose a little of that cool. Let's see what happened when Mr. Hippo began charging around . . .

Let's see . . . two pigeons, two goats, two reindeer, two pigs. You know, I think we've just shipped Noah's Ark!

BERNARD BAILY...

What's that!?

A hippopotamus, sir.

I mean whose is it? Anybody here order a hippopotamus? Where did everybody go?

Chief Johnson? I don't want to spoil your day, but it seems we have a hippopotamus running loose down here.

He's knocking over crates, phone booths, things like that. Any instructions?

Must you bother me with every trifle? Look in the cargo handler's manual.

Sure, over at LaGuardia they get Raquel Welch crossing her legs for photographers. Here I get a weird hippo. The manual says, 7 feet in height, and 15 feet in circumference . . .

(HEAD)

Sure. We'll lasso him with a tape measure, right? What do I care about dimensions? I'm not buying him a sweater.

Hippos are found in Abyssinia, Gambia and in some airports. See "Rampaging Hippos."

Look, Smedley, I'm busy checking on other things. Call the zoo.

Hello, zoo-keeper? This is Smedley at Kennedy Airport. We have a hippo running loose.

Do you have his registration number?

No.

Sorry, we don't handle unregistered hippos.

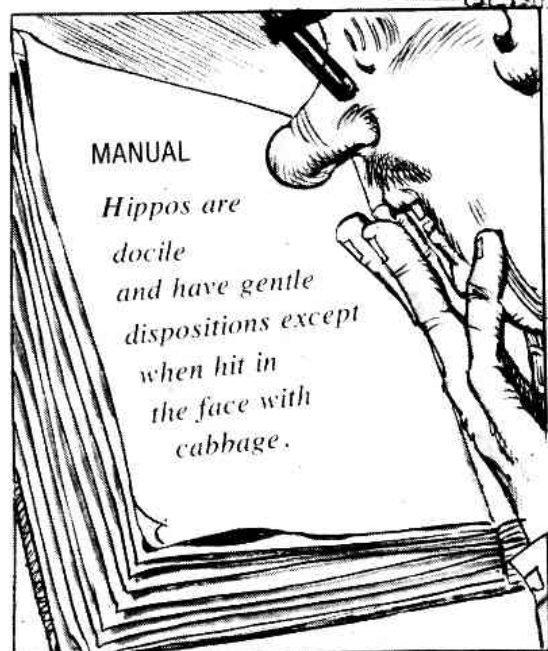

But how do we capture him?

Put salt on his tail. Look, I'm busy, checking out a wild new beast up here.

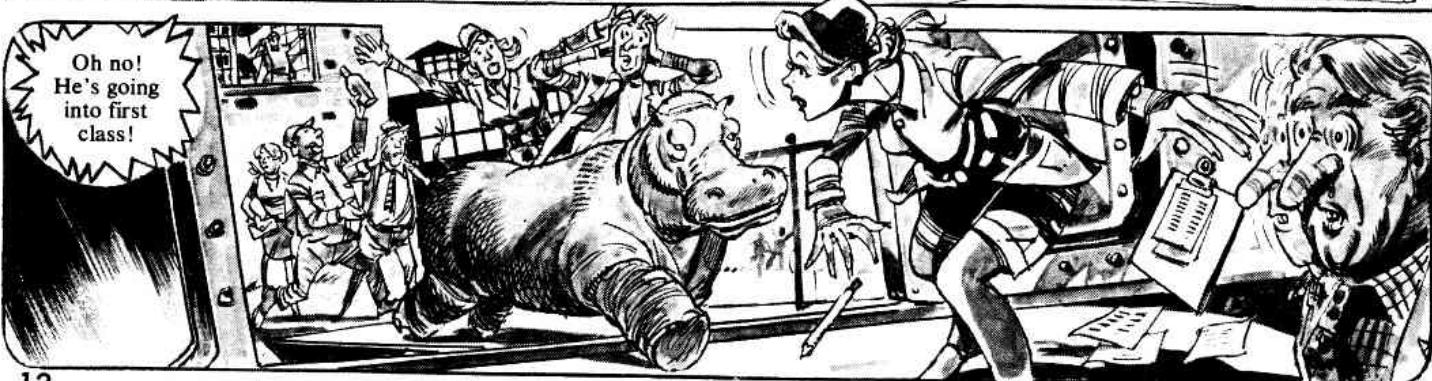

MANUAL

Hippos are docile and have gentle dispositions except when hit in the face with cabbage.

Harrison! No! Don't you read the manual?

WHEEL ZEAL SECTION:

CRACKED has discovered why bicycling is the biggest growing sport since Wilt Chamberlain . . . Cycling promotes FRIENDSHIP . . . every dog in town will get to know you. Cycling promotes HEALTH . . . of the dogs chasing you. Cycling controls WEIGHT . . . those mutts will be taking hefty chunks out of you.

Bicyclists should be wary of Sunday drivers . . . and Monday drivers, and Tuesday drivers, and Wednesday drivers, and . . .

CRACKED's GUIDE TO BICYCLING

Since 70% of bike accidents occur in daylight . . . make sure you ride only when it's pitch black.

HISTORY OF THE BICYCLE

HOBBY HORSE BIKE — 1834

1. Bike had no pedals, driver had to propel himself with his feet like a kiddy car.

2. By using roller skates, rider went much faster.

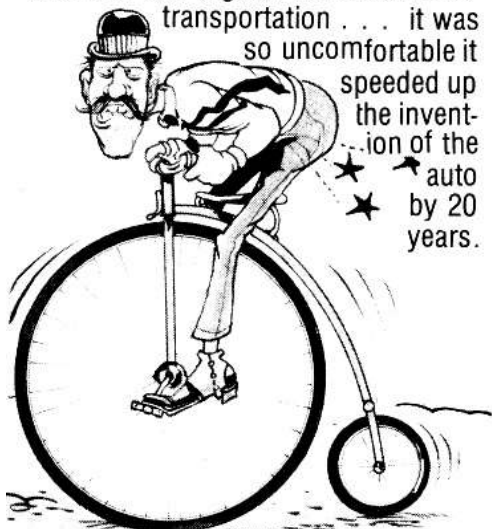

3. By abandoning bike altogether, rider went even faster.

THE BONESHAKER — 1868

This bike was a great contribution to transportation . . . it was so uncomfortable it speeded up the invention of the auto by 20 years.

THE GIBSON GIRL — 1890's

Bicycling helped create the sexy "Gibson Girl Look" . . . if you don't think she looked sexy you should have seen what preceded her.

MILITARY BICYCLE — 1914

Generals at first envisioned a big role for bicycles in modern warfare . . . idea was discarded when it was discovered bicycles only helped soldiers to retreat faster.

DIFFERENT TYPES OF BICYCLES:

THE TANDEM

— for couples who get along.

THE TANDEM

— for couples who do not get along.

THE RACING BICYCLE

A cycle that is stripped down to the absolute bare essentials.

THE UNICYCLE

— In great favor with Maharajahs until the invention of the Cadillac.

THE STATUS SYMBOL BICYCLE

— You don't ride it . . . you display it.

MY BIKE HAS:

- 99-Speed automatic transmission.
- AM-FM stereo-radio with cartridge-player attachment.
- Gyroscope stabilizer
- Power-disc brakes.
- Dragster-type slicks.
- Turn signals.
- Air horn.

DIFFERENT BICYCLE ACTIVITIES:

GIRL-WATCHING or BOY WATCHING . . . as the case may be:

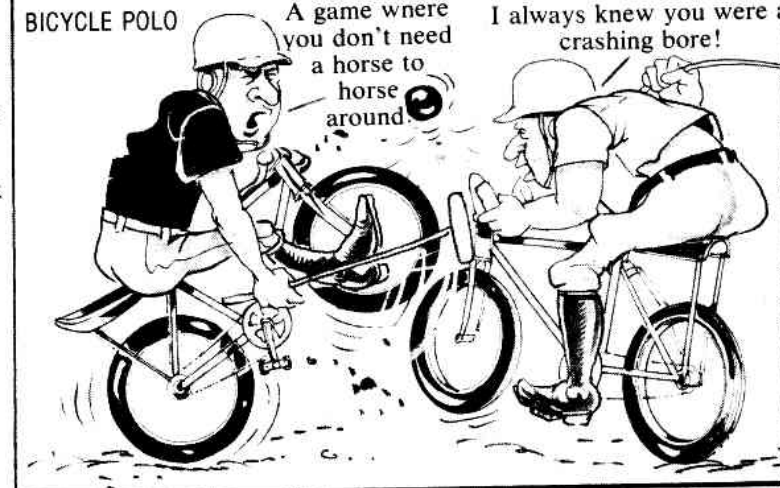

We're not strangers! Don't you remember? We're the ones who tried to pick you up yesterday!

BICYCLE POLO

A game where you don't need a horse to horse around.

I always knew you were crashing bore!

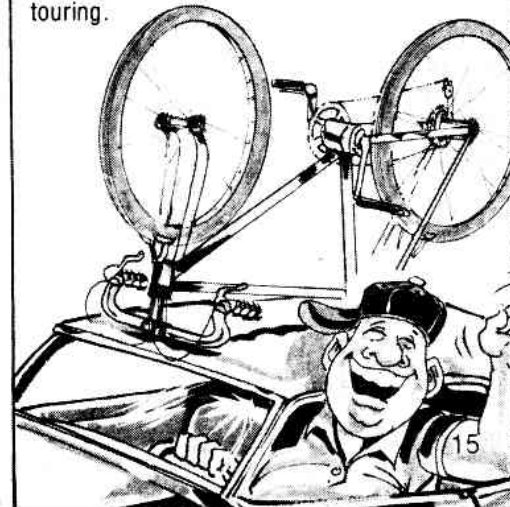

INCORRECT WAY to distribute camping gear when touring.

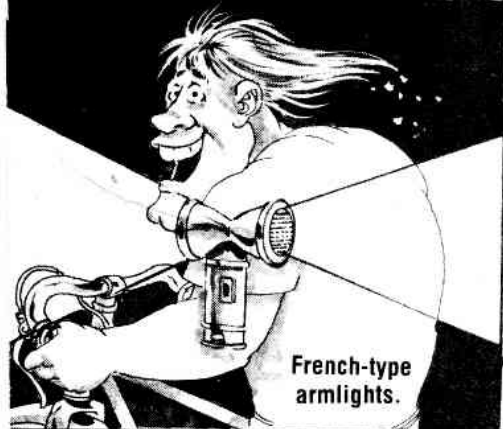

CORRECT WAY to distribute camping gear when touring.

BEST WAY to distribute camping gear when touring.

BICYCLE ACCESSORIES: GOOD LIGHTS ARE AN ABSOLUTE MUST FOR NIGHT CYCLING.

French-type armlights.

Pittsburgh-type headlight.

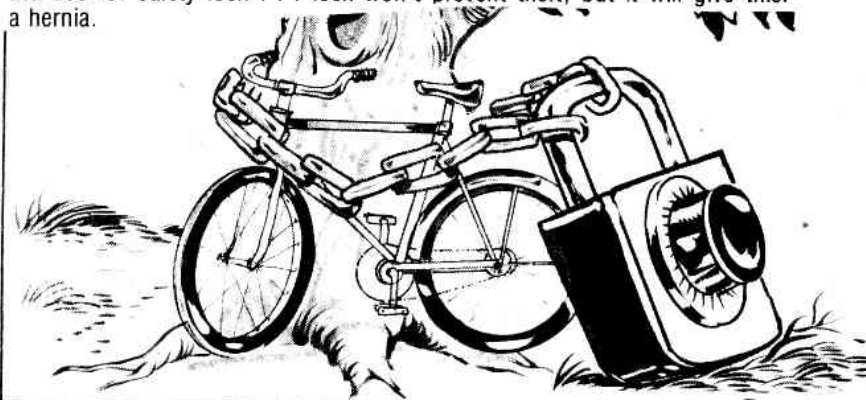

Hollywood-type tail light.

GLOVES ARE RECOMMENDED WHEN BICYCLING:

Since most bike thieves steal both bike and lock, CRACKED recommends the 200 lb. safety lock . . . lock won't prevent theft, but it will give thief a hernia.

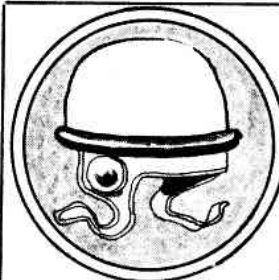

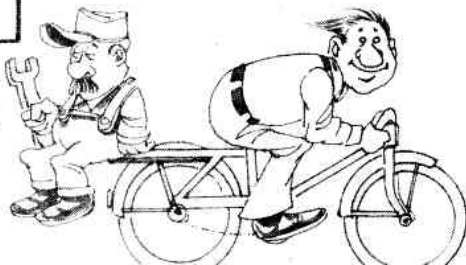

The only sure fire way to combat annoying dogs is to fight fire with fire . . . rider should bring along his own dog.

Riders familiar with tools should attach repair kit to bike . . .

Riders unfamiliar with tools should attach midget repairman to bike . . .

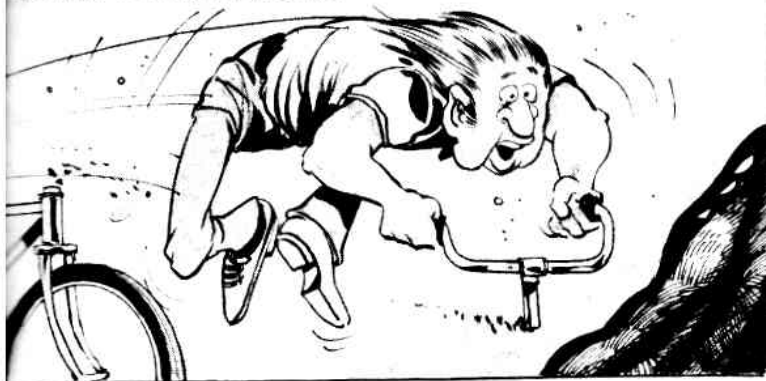

Bicycle helmets come in handy . . . they come in handy for pipe-smoking truck drivers.

BICYCLE REPAIR TIPS:

If you are always arriving at your destination before your bike . . .
TIGHTEN YOUR HANDLEBARS!

If you can carry on a conversation with Wilt Chamberlain without straining your neck . . .
LOWER YOUR SEAT!

If your bike stops before you do . . . LOOSEN YOUR BRAKES!

If telegraph wires present a constant hazard . . . YOUR TIRES ARE OVERINFLATED.

BICYCLE SAFETY TIPS:

Bicyclers should not hitch onto trucks.

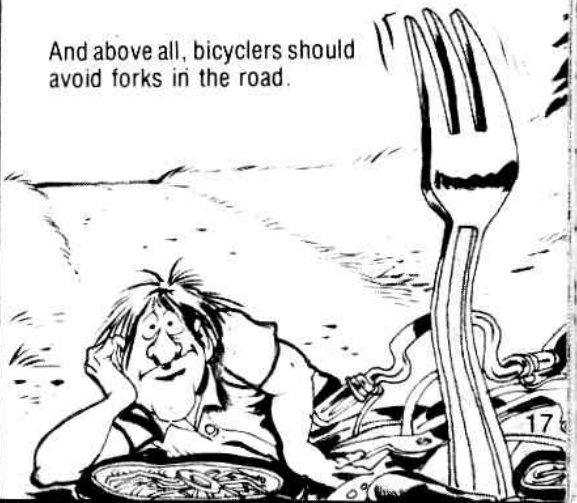

... by the same token, sportscar motorists should not hitch onto bicyclers.

In areas infested with hotpants, the wearing of horse-type blinders are mandatory.

And above all, bicyclers should avoid forks in the road.

MOVIE SATIRE:

For our movie satire this month, we turn to a real oldie. No, not an old MOVIE . . . an old MAN! A man so old, he can hardly straighten up. In fact, he walks so bent over, we figure there's gotta be something wrong with . . .

KLOTCH

Grandpa, you've been living with us for 19 years now and frankly, we're getting a little fed up . . . especially since you only came for a weekend visit!

So who's perfect?

Yesterday was the last straw! You left the top off the toothpaste tube again!

So what's so terrible about that?

You left it in Junior's oatmeal! . . . all morning long he walked around with a lump in his throat!

—Nothing personal, but you've become an old meddler, a senile delinquent, a hopeless bungler, and an all-around big fat slob!

And to top it off, you dropped your false teeth on his highchair! When he sat down he almost bit himself to death!

WEIGHT WATCHERS ARE LOSERS

We finally decided . . . we're going to hire a full-time sleep-in baby sitter!

Well, if you think it best for Junior!

What Junior? We're hiring her for you!

Somebody has to keep an eye on you in your second childhood!

Darling, maybe we're being a little too harsh on Grandpa. After all, he's over 80 years old . . . and more important, he is your father!

My father? . . . Omigosh! And all this time I thought he was your father!

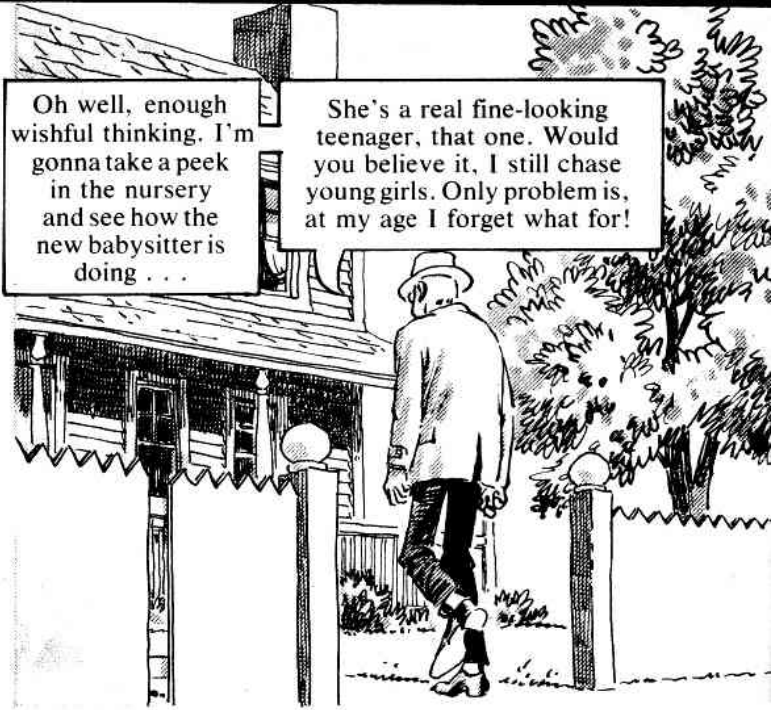

Stop that nonsense or I'll leave! If there's one thing I hate more than old folks, it's old jokes!

Young people today just don't have no respect for us old folks anymore. Just because we're wrinkled and decrepit-looking and get in everybody's way and are obnoxious . . . that's no reason for them to avoid us!

I tell you, young ones don't have no respect for human dignity. They hold life cheaply. It's disgraceful! I say we take all these young people, line 'em up against a wall and shoot 'em down like dogs!

Oh well, enough wishful thinking. I'm gonna take a peek in the nursery and see how the new babysitter is doing . . .

She's a real fine-looking teenager, that one. Would you believe it, I still chase young girls. Only problem is, at my age I forget what for!

Hm-m, everything seems to be in order . . . nothing unusual here!

Glad we got the new babysitter . . . she's the kind who'll bring a lot of sweetness and love around here!

Can't seem to sleep. Think I'll take a walk into town and talk to anyone who'll listen to me. I'll talk to anybody . . . man, woman, child, dog . . . once I found myself chatting three hours with a fire hydrant!

Funny part is, that darn piece of metal made more sense than folks do!

ONE WOMAN'S JUNK IS ANOTHER WOMAN'S ANTIQUES

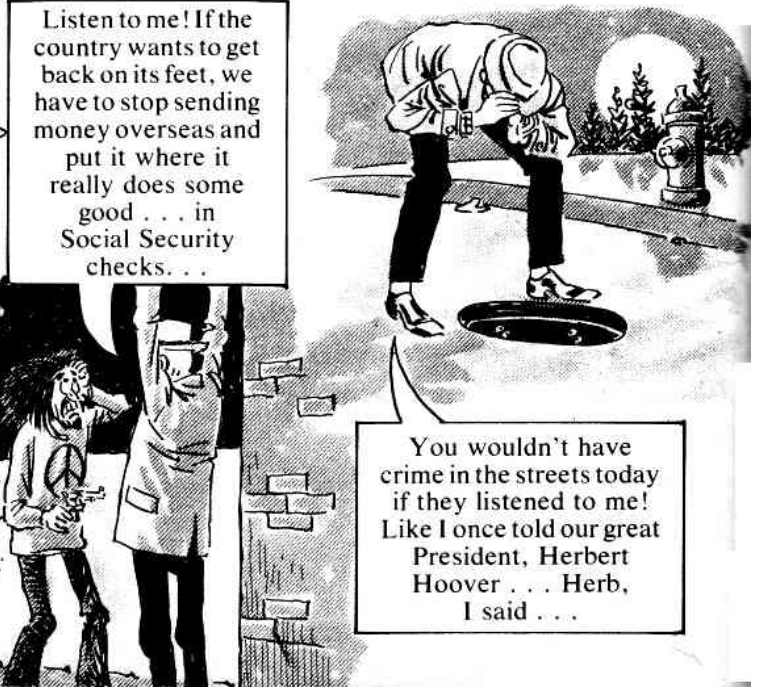

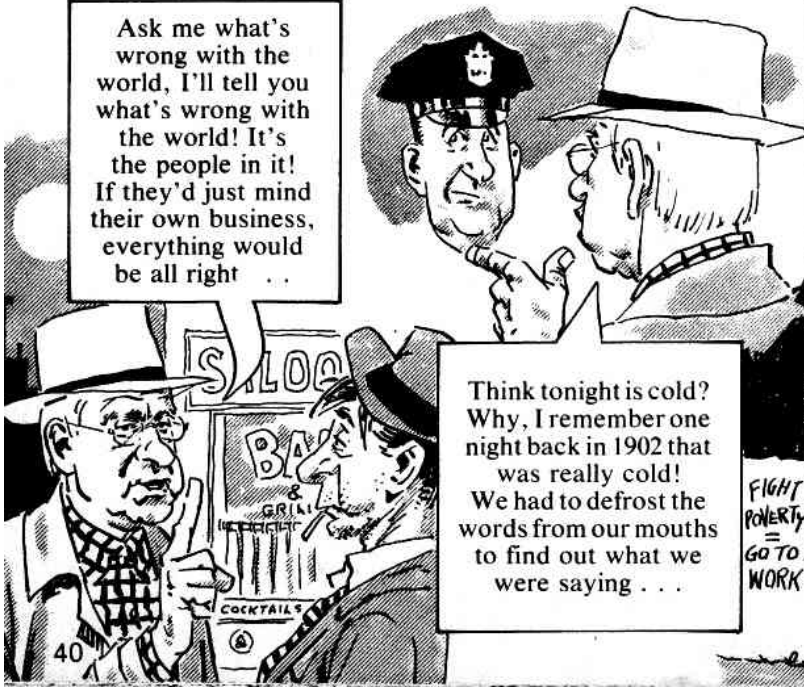

Ask me what's wrong with the world, I'll tell you what's wrong with the world! It's the people in it! If they'd just mind their own business, everything would be all right . . .

Listen to me! If the country wants to get back on its feet, we have to stop sending money overseas and put it where it really does some good . . . in Social Security checks . . .

Think tonight is cold? Why, I remember one night back in 1902 that was really cold! We had to defrost the words from our mouths to find out what we were saying . . .

FIGHT POVERTY = GO TO WORK

You wouldn't have crime in the streets today if they listened to me! Like I once told our great President, Herbert Hoover . . . Herb, I said . . .

Grandpa, this time you've gone too far! I just got a call from the police station saying you were disturbing the peace! Not in town . . . at the police station!

People are starting to complain about you. They don't want you in the neighborhood anymore. You're making their dogs and cats nervous.

IF I DON'T SEE YOU IN THE FUTURE I'LL SEE YOU IN THE PASTURE!

We're going to have to put you in a HOME!

A HOME? Your own father. I'll never go to a HOME!

You'll have your own room and friends your age.

Stop talking . . . you'll never get ME in a home!

You'll have your own pretty little nurse who'll wait on you hand and foot.

Like I say . . . it wouldn't hurt to take a look. I'll go pack a bag!

Well, here we are at the home. What do you think of it?

I'll tell you the truth . . . it's a nice place to die, but I wouldn't want to live here!

This place is disgusting! Look at that man painting the crabgrass over there! And that lady cleaning a chicken on the front lawn! And that old guy in his shorts blowing a ram's horn on the porch! What's disgusting about it is that . . . these are the attendants! I hear the inmates are even worse!

I'm leaving! This is the most hideous, revolting, chaotic place I've ever seen! What's the name of this joint?

Serenity Lodge!

ENJOY YOURSELVES... REMEMBER... HE WHO LAUGHS LASTS

Since you won't go to the home, we found you a nice little apartment for yourself . . . nearby!

What do you call nearby?

Just a hop, skip, and a jump from here . . . it's called Nova Scotia!

And it's only ten minutes away . . . by phone!

I have a feeling you're trying to get rid of me!

What makes you think that?

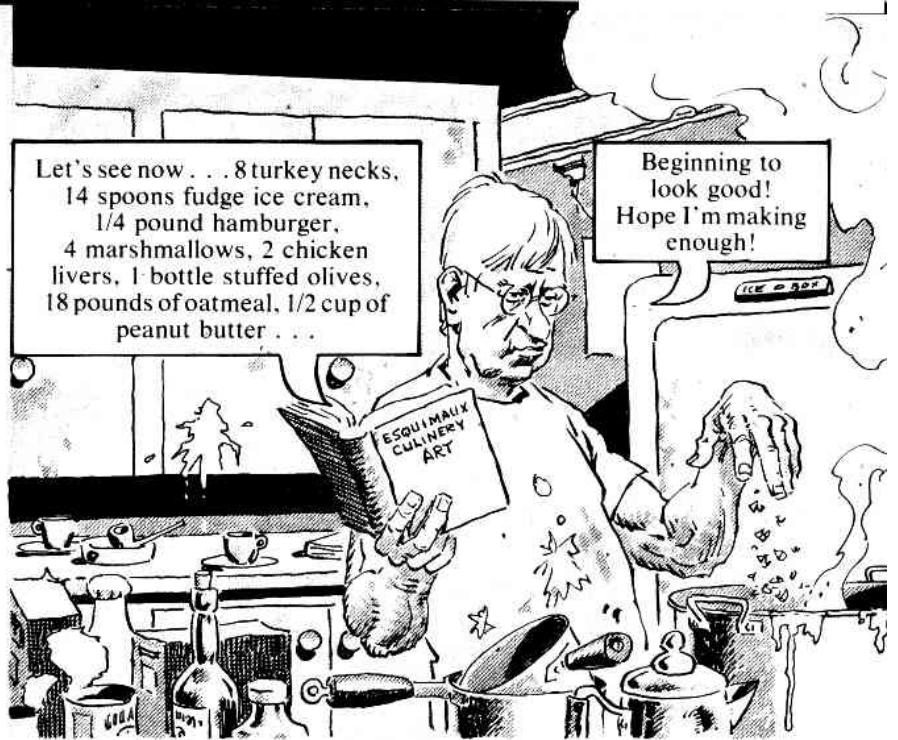

You're pushing me out the door, and I haven't finished packing yet!

As a matter of fact, I haven't even started!

Now that I've got my own place I can do anything I want. I can go to bed late and eat junky stuff . . .

Guess I'll cook dinner! Where's that Eskimo cookbook?

Let's see now . . . 8 turkey necks, 14 spoons fudge ice cream, 1/4 pound hamburger, 4 marshmallows, 2 chicken livers, 1 bottle stuffed olives, 18 pounds of oatmeal, 1/2 cup of peanut butter . . .

Beginning to look good! Hope I'm making enough!

On second thought . . . maybe I'll go down and see the kids. Haven't seen my grandson since this morning . . . and this is the night they have chicken . . .

I love children. I could stay at this playground all day enjoying these kids. Besides, I beat 'em at checkers . . . two games out of three!

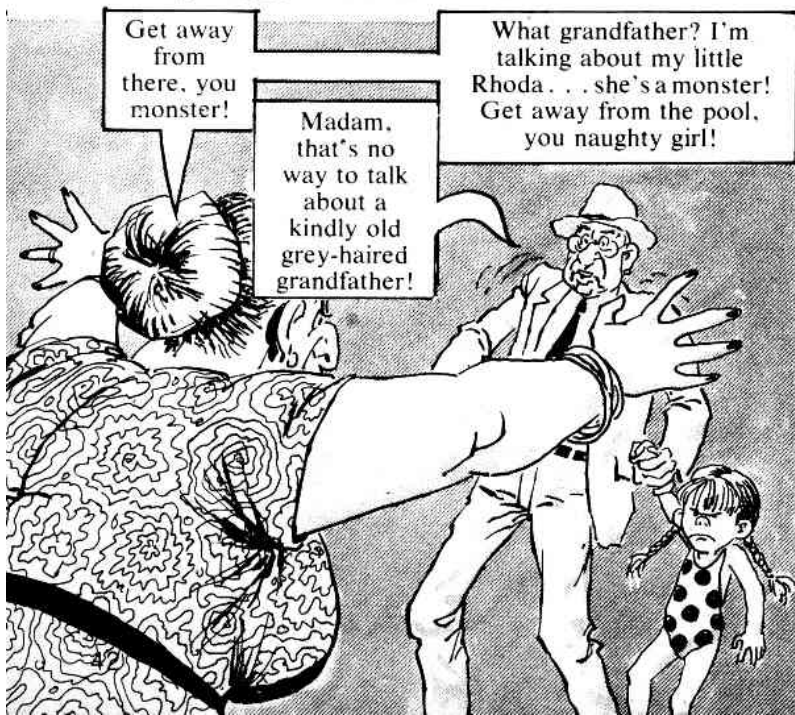

Here, little girl, let me help you into the pool . . .

YOU MAY NOT KNOW WHEN YOU'RE WELL OFF, BUT THE INTERNAL REVENUE DEPT DOES

Get away from there, you monster!

Madam, that's no way to talk about a kindly old grey-haired grandfather!

What grandfather? I'm talking about my little Rhoda . . . she's a monster! Get away from the pool, you naughty girl!

I try to help people but it never works. I keep bungling all the time! Like now, old lady. I'm helping you across the street . . . why are you fighting me?

Because I don't want to cross, you numbskull . . . I'm waiting for a bus!

SKREEE

Thought I'd surprise you, Son!
Took me four hours but I finally got the top up on this new car
you had delivered!

Idiot! It isn't a convertible!

Surprise, Honey! I cooked the dinner
for all of us today.
You know . . . the partridge. Found the bird on the kitchen table when I came in today!

You nitwit! I bought that bird
at the PET
SHOP! It's a rare species . . .
speaks three languages!

So why didn't it say something?

That settles it,
Grandpa . . .
that's the last straw! I'm putting you in a home! You're not responsible for what you do!
Everybody's complaining about you . . .
especially the people watching this movie!

All right already! I'll go to the home.
Nobody appreciates me anymore.
Would you believe it . . . I don't get no respect from Rodney Dangerfield, and just yesterday
Dale Carnegie punched me in the mouth!

Main reason I'm going is that I'm just plain tired. Why this week alone . . . I watched the drugstore get a new rack of gloves; I talked a couple out of getting a divorce while in the courtroom; and I stopped a guy from feeding the small animals at the zoo!

That last one really knocked me out . . . he was feeding them to the BIG animals!

THE ADVANTAGE OF
HAVING A LARGER
CAR IS THAT YOU GET MORE FOR YOUR PARKING NICKEL!!

So you finally put me in a home! . . . Hey, wait a minute
... this isn't a home for the aged!

Right! It's a home for the insane!

Any actor who'd accept the role of an 80-year-old man has got to be a little crazy! . . .
especially a role in this senile picture!

It's Jack Lemmon's fault! He said it would be another
ODD COUPLE!

What it really turned out to be is ... another LEMMON!

Did you ever go to a discount store and find 100% waterproof boots on sale for just 99c? And did you then buy those boots only to find out later that they were guaranteed waterproof only when dry? You might ask, "How could someone get away with this?" Well, you'll soon discover how, as CRACKED INTERVIEWS:

THE DISCOUNT KING

Shall we go inside?

In a minute, but first I'd like to point out our Auto Center across the street ... it's just like your friendly gas station around the corner.

DISCOUNT
KING
AUTO CENTER

Is that because you come to a person's aid at a moment's notice?

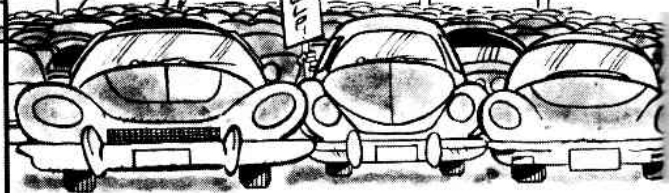

Well, that and the fact that we offer lousy service and charge absurd prices for anything we touch or breathe on.

I notice that all the spaces in your parking lot are built rather close together. This must cause a number of minor accidents each day ...

And Discount Harry's Automotive Center has the parts to fix that damage with. You see, Nanny, in the merchandising game, you gotta get it where you can.

OUT

LOT #31

Right here at the entrance is our "opportunity table" where drastically reduced items are put out all through the day. Why right now that saleslady is taking 50% off the price of any dress.

And what's the man under the table doing?

Why, Mr. Statts, that's dishonest!

Oh, he's doubling the price on each dress, so that when the saleslady marks them down, we don't end up losing money.

By the way, as we go in, let me remind you that every item in this store is imported.

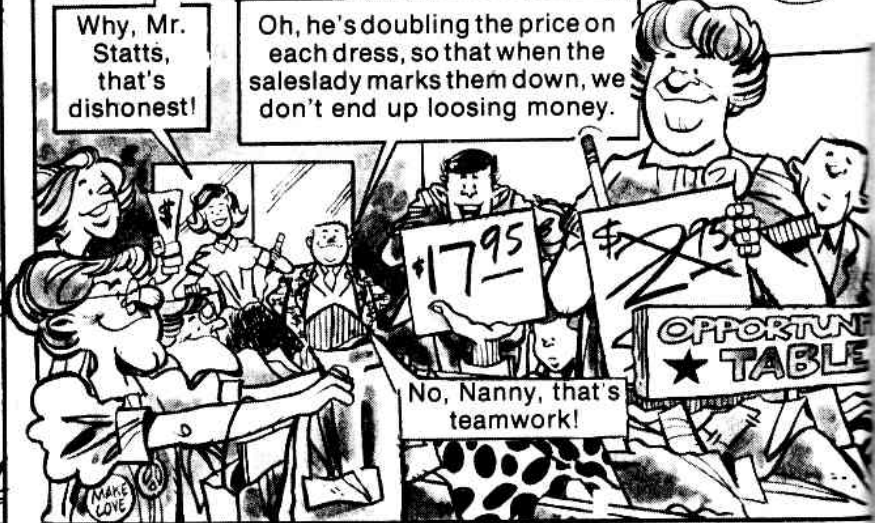

A few, but most of our merchandise comes from Taiwan, Korea, and Japan

With the cost of American labor, who could afford to buy them!

Do you carry things from London, Paris, and Rome?

Why don't you sell things made in this country?

IN

No, Nanny, that's teamwork!

To your left is our slightly damaged no returns/no refunds table.

On the contrary. This is all brand new merchandise that's been either scratched or damaged.

Oh it works.

This table looks like a second-hand garbage dump to me.

You mean someone will actually buy this inoperable radio?

This crummy radio works?

No, the sales pitch works. We sell every item on the table!

Now, in this booth is our "Sale Namer." You can't have a sale without a name.

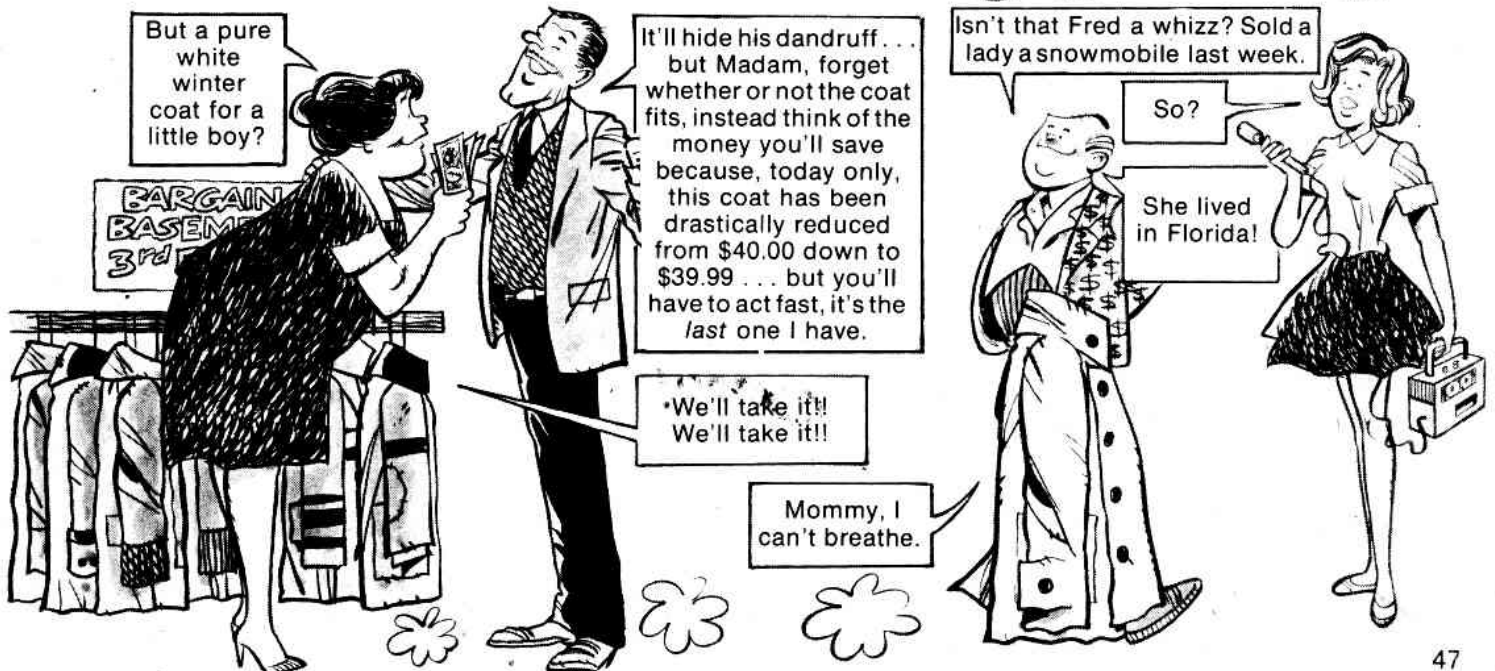

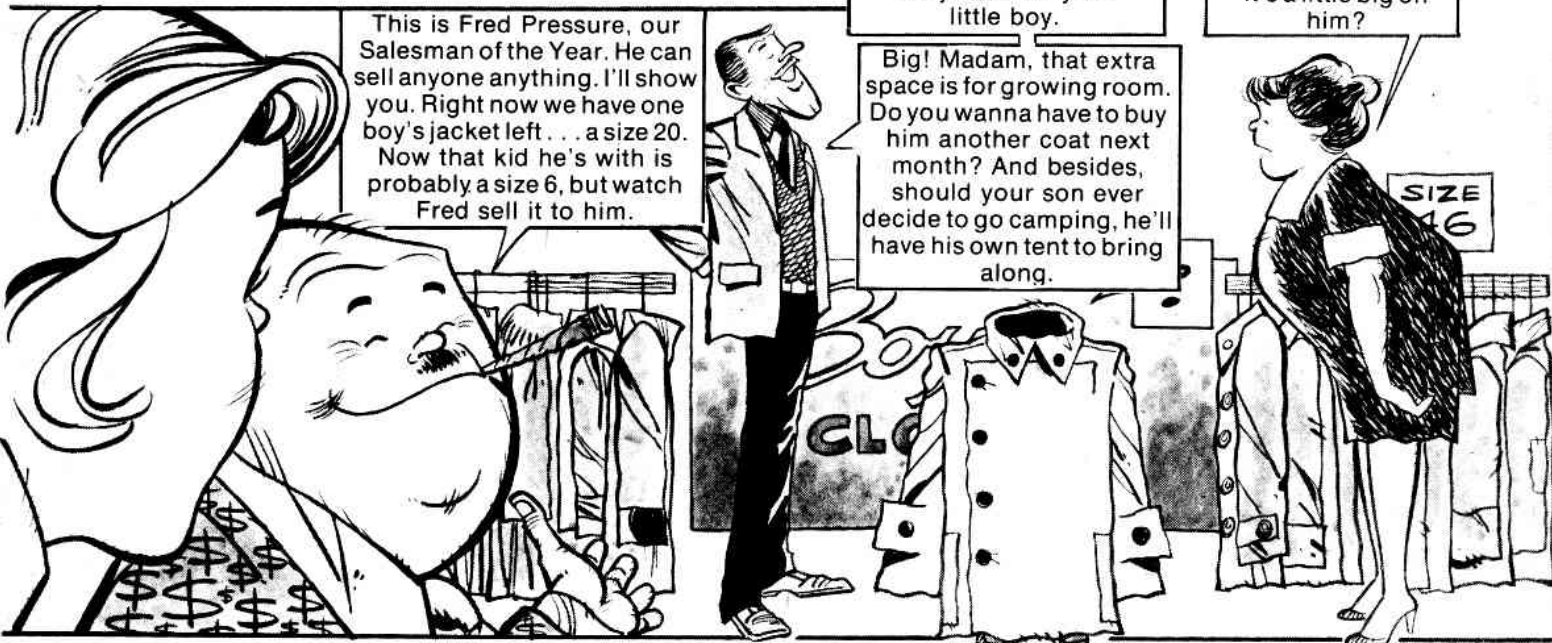

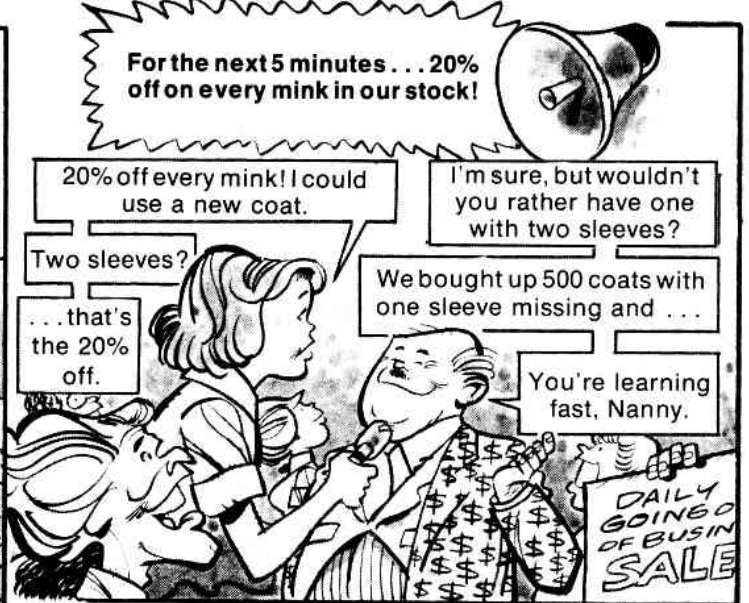

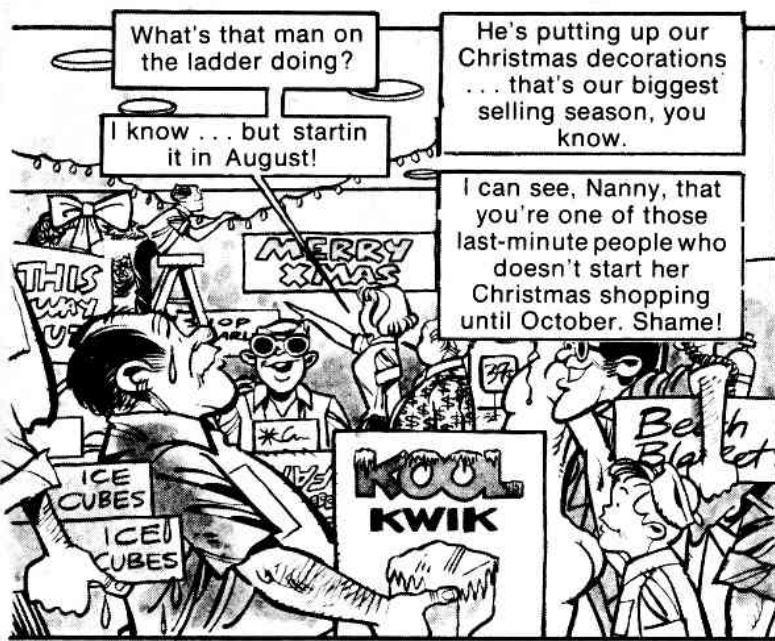

What's today's?

Our "Week After the Fourth Annual, Semi-annual, Annual Sale" ... And in two weeks we'll be celebrating the "William Wyman Birthday Jubilee Sale."

Who's William Wyman?

One of the goldfish in our pet department.

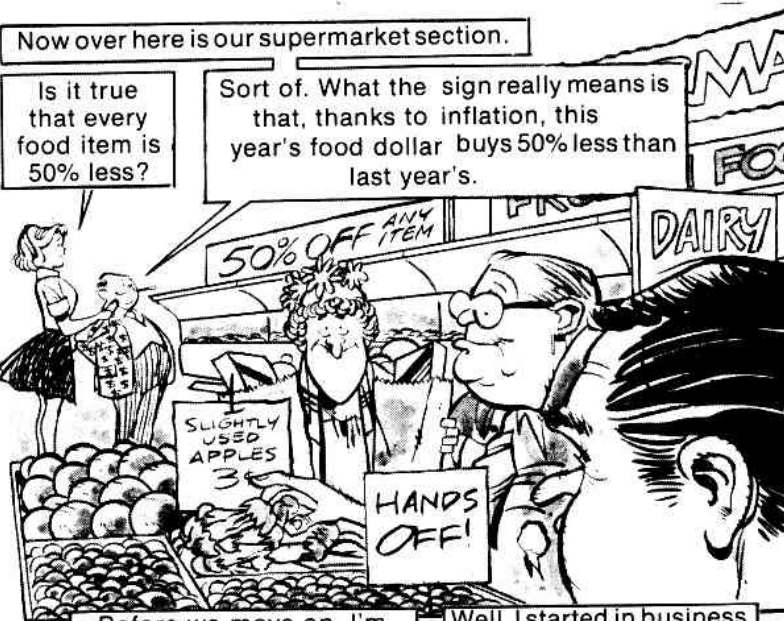

What's "The Apple Pan Downy?"

$2! Do you make money?

Our restaurant. We offer a free package check and all the food you can eat for only $2.

Not with the food, but we make a fortune reselling all the merchandise that people keep forgetting at our package check.

Now over here is our supermarket section.

Is it true that every food item is 50% less?

Sort of. What the sign really means is that, thanks to inflation, this year's food dollar buys 50% less than last year's.

And is this another one of your misleading signs?

On the contrary... this is one of our advertised "come-ons" that draw people to the store.

Just what is a "come-on?"

Well, when someone asks you where the item is, you say, 'Come-on, Lady, you expect us to have more than one?'

Before we move on, I'm sure my readers would enjoy hearing how this whole store began.

Well, I started in business with a discount push-cart selling buttons, zippers, needles, etc.

What was your biggest sale in those days?

The push-cart! Nobody needed buttons, zippers, and needles.

And from there you built this huge store out of sweat, hard work...

... and the million and a half dollars my wife had when I married her.

I must admit, this store has everything.

We pride ourselves on that. Why, we even have a place where mothers can leave their children while they shop. We entertain their kids through the day with movies.

What sort of things do you show them.

Toy commercials. It's increased sales in that department 80%.

Since your store does sell everything, don't you think that merchandising monsters such as yours are responsible for driving small shops out of business. Like I noticed, when I came in, that the clothing store across the street was closing down.

Well yes, and sometimes it does hurt. Like that shop you just mentioned... I know the owner quite well.

A good friend?

My father.

Now we're coming to the one department I hate . . . refunds!

Yes, but we've been doing our best to cut down returns. Like, for example, every other day we've been relocating the department so people can't find where it is. But yesterday, we gave that up when we finally found the one device that cuts refunds by 90%.

I imagine that this is the one place where you lose money.

How did you achieve that?
